Irons in the fire

The Education team met recently, and one of the things that was brought up was the desire to have more and varied Bible studies. I think that's a great idea! We currently have a ladies study that is on the third Tuesday of the month - meeting in the education building at 2:00 pm. Other thoughts are for study groups for both men and women to meet at other times ... and even in other places. The more time that we can spend abiding in God's Word the better. What works for you? Let's start talking about this!

We've been running with our updated contemporary/blended worship service for the last couple of months and we have gotten what has generally been good feedback. One of the things that is still missing from the mix is a regular "praise band". We currently have me on bass guitar, Dawn on the piano, and when he is able to be there - Scott Esse on guitar. That is a great core and a good start, but we could really use another guitar and a drummer! I have an electronic drum set that a drummer could use ... we would just need to find the person to play ... so if you know anyone who might be interested in either of these positions ask them to get in touch with me.

See you in church!
Pastor Mark

A special thank you to everyone for the phone calls, visits, cards and food that we received during Lester's hospital stay and recovery. It's wonderful to know that we live in such a caring community and have a great spiritual family to rely on. Also, thanks to those persons that stepped in to help with my church duties, so that I could stay in Temple.
